U.S. PARTICIPATION IN NEW REPARATIONS INQUIRY IS NOW ASSURED AS FIRST REAL STEP TO RESTORE GERMANY IS TAKEN

Move Has Administration Sanction Even Though
This Government Will Not Share Officially In Investigation to Be Undertaken By Experts;
Leading American Financiers Among Group.

PARIS IS PLEASED WITH U. S. APPROVAL

Paris, Dec. 12.—France has begun an investigation to widen the scope of which has been accepted by Germany her proposed investigations into the ability of German capitalists to pay States, may be the beginning of an adjustment. They were hopeful it would promote recommendations and discussions which might "germinate" the political stalemate in Europe and end the economic chaos.

The first committee will consider means of balancing the budget of Germany, and measures to stabilize her currency. The second will undertake what France has urged for so long, the question of capital which has been removed from Germany—the so-called "frozen assets."

A letter from Col. John A. Logan, American observer at the Reparation committee meetings, was sent to Mr. Louis Barthou today advising him of the president's decision. The letter emphasized the fact that the United States is not in a position to be represented at the reparations conference but favors the action as well as do American bankers.

Washington, Dec. 11.—The United States today sanctioned the new form of reparations inquiry proposed by France. It was announced at the White House, following a cabinet meeting, that although the government would not officially share in the investigation by experts, Americans would serve unofficially on the two allied committees working under the Reparations Commission.

BABIES ARE BEING SUBJECTED TO TEST OF GREAT IMPORT

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 12.—On foot, crawling babies in the Children's Hospital here today depended the fate of thousands of babies of the future. The four are subjects of an experiment that will determine whether or not insulin, taken from the pancreatic gland of sheep is successful in "fattening" undernourished infants whose stomachs do not function, causing them to starve.

Dr. William McKim Marriott, dean of the Washington University school of medicine here, who announced successful results in increasing the weight of two undernourished babies by 50 per cent in two weeks through injection of insulin, today said that the experiments were not finally conclusive.

"We are carrying these experiments further," he said. "We believe we will have results showing definitely whether or not insulin is effective in this connection in four or five months."

LOWDEN LOOMING UP AS DARK HORSE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 12.—That the name of a strong undercurrent for Phil O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, for the presidential nomination was discerned among the western and middle western National Committee members, who attended a meeting of the national committee here today.

Hours after Lowden was supposed to have left the city, he called at the White House. In an interview he was non-committal as to the purpose of the White House. He said that there was considerable Colorado sentiment in Illinois and considerable Johnson as well. As Lowden is one of the close personal friends of Coolidge, it was said that he had no intention of announcing his candidacy at the event of a deadlock in the convention that he would be available.

SENATE CONFIRMS KELLOGG AS U. S. ENVOY AT LONDON

Senator Shipstead, Who Defeated Him for Senate,
Now Leads Fight Against Confirmation.

FRIENDS HELP HIM

Washington, Dec. 11.—In the face of strong protests by insurgent Republicans and several Democrats, the Senate today by a vote of 75 to 9 confirmed the nomination of Frank B. Kellogg, former Senator from Minnesota, to be Ambassador to Great Britain, succeeding Colonel George Harvey.

The nomination was favorably reported by the Foreign Relations Committee at its first session today. Despite the fact that Mr. Kellogg was known as a mild reservationist during the Versailles Treaty fight, his erstwhile irreconcilable colleagues, such as Senator Borah, of Idaho; Senator Brandegee, of Connecticut; Senator Johnson, of California and Senator Moses, of New Hampshire, joined in giving him the committee O. K.

Senator Henrik Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, of Minnesota, who defeated Mr. Kellogg in the Senate race last year, voted against confirmation. Senator Borah said he feared his story might repeat itself. He recalled the case of Martin van Buren, whose nomination to be Ambassador to Great Britain was rejected by the Senate after Van Buren had gone to London. Van Buren returned to the United States and was elected President. Hence he did not want to see Mr. Kellogg rejected.

Senator Shipstead carried the fight to the Senate floor, where the nomination was considered behind closed doors. Mr. Shipstead read a prepared statement in which he called attention to Mr. Kellogg's defeat, and declared his appointment to such an important diplomatic post as "an affront to public sentiment."

Senator Norris, Republican, of Nebraska, objected to the "lame duck" features of the appointment. He opposed Kellogg's confirmation, he said because he considered it a bad principle for the Administration to reward defeated Senators with high appointments.

Those voting against Mr. Kellogg were: Wheeler, Democrat, Montana; Dill, Democrat, Washington; Ferris, Democrat, Michigan; Copeland, Democrat, New York; Johnson, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota; Norris, Republican, Nebraska; Frazier, Republican, North Dakota and Brookhart, Republican, Iowa.

SENATE DEADLOCK REMAINS UNBROKEN

Washington, Dec. 12.—Four of the seven LaFollette progressives who have deadlocked the Senate over the chairmanship of the interstate commerce committee, swung over to the Democrats on the first ballot today but could not break the deadlock.

Senators Brookhart, Frazier Shipstead and Marcus Johnson voted for Senator Smith, Democrat.

HAVE YOU DONE YOUR CHRISTMAS MAILING IN PLENTY OF TIME?

If Not, Get Busy and Profit by the Following
List of Local Don'ts
Just Given Out.

GETTING RESULTS

Washington, Dec. 12.—The usual jam attendant to the mailing of Christmas mail at the last minute was not as yet apparent in the Post Office Department according to a statement given out today. The extra rush is already felt throughout the country but "we are sitting pretty" one of the officials declared today.

The improvement is due to the "mail early" campaign which has been received in fine shape by the general public all over the country. It has been the greatest relief to the usual Christmas congestion of mails, ever accomplished. Department stores, theatres, motion picture houses and many other agencies have all done their share in bringing this about and the admonition of the Post Office Department, which has ruled that all postal employees and clerks shall quit promptly at noon on Christmas day whether the mail is delivered or not, has carried weight.

Some Don'ts For Local Patrons. Postmaster: Roseberry is seeking the co-operation of the patrons of the local post office and to that end asks that the following list of "Don'ts" be carefully kept in mind while doing your Christmas mailing early—

Don't wait. Mail early and often.

Don't wait until the last minute.

Don't buy one stamp at a time. Get a supply.

Don't cause the employees. The postmaster has that job.

Don't hold your mail until 5 p. m. Everybody but you does the same.

Don't forget: Your mail will get better service if you post it five or six times daily.

Don't forget to address letters and parcels plainly. Also use return address.

Don't knock. Boost. Meet us 50-50. We want to serve you.

Don't cause clerks and carriers unnecessary work. They have their own troubles at this time.

Don't forget that we aim to give you the best service you ever had.

Don't forget to thank your carrier for his year's service. He will appreciate it.

Don't go mad if your package does not arrive on time. All parcels will be on the way five to seven days longer than usual.

Don't, if your mail is delivered, ask window clerks to look through hundreds of letters and parcels to find one for you. It will be delivered on the next trip.

Don't forget that last year more than seven million parcels failed to reach destination in time for Christmas, because you did not mail them early.

Don't forget that the postmaster and all the clerks and carriers wish you a Merry Christmas and a happy, prosperous New Year. We are here to serve you.

PINCHOT-JOHNSON FORM AN ALLIANCE ON CANDIDACIES

Will Play Damon and Pythias Stunt Throughout Coming Presidential Campaign.

AGREE ON TERMS

Washington, Dec. 12.—The possibility of Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania running away with the Republican nomination for the presidency has been removed today following a conference which brought about a complete understanding between Pinchot and Senator Hiram Johnson of California.

There is to be no Progressive contest between Pinchot and Johnson and only under these conditions will Pinchot be brought forth against Johnson.

1. If it becomes apparent that Johnson cannot be nominated.

2. In case of a deadlock in the convention.

3. In case a "Pinchot stampede" develops in the convention.

Governor Pinchot will come out as "favorite son" only to the extent that he will in no way injure Johnson's chances. Until recently this was not the case, but since Pinchot's recent visit here a thorough agreement has been reached and in the event that Johnson cannot be nominated, and it seems Pinchot can be, Johnson is to throw all his support to Pinchot. But it was also agreed that unless it is apparent that Johnson has no chance to win, Pinchot will support him and that all his strength for the Californian.

INTEREST GROWING AS WEST SIDE MEET ENTERS LAST WEEK

Interest in the West Side Methodist revival is at white heat as these meetings draw near the end of the last week. The tabernacle was crowded again last evening, it being Sunday School night and the various classes turned out in a body. The large, chorus choir sang in a most inspiring way and the various sections of the large audience helped to "Brighten the Corner" where they happened to be.

The theme of the evening was "Christ and the Pleasures of Life." Evangelist Poulson pointed out the fact that heaven is a place of perfect happiness and that, God wants us all to have a foretaste of happiness here. He then started in to explain the many temptations of life that promise happiness but instead yield only heartache and pain. He challenged his hearers to meet the test of "What would Jesus do?" If He were in my place? He stated that by far the greatest hindrance to the complete success of the church today is the compromised lives so many professing Christians are living.

More than a score of persons came to the altar when the call for decisions was made. Many of these were boys in their early teens—a fact that greatly impressed all present. Among the adult conversions was a husband and wife kneeling together.

The Rev. Gideon P. Sarvis was asked to speak during the altar service and gave one of his matchless exhortations. Many of his old friends were present to hear him again last night. By unanimous vote the offering of the evening was given to this greatly beloved former pastor, whose coming to the city at this time has meant so much to the meetings, and when it was totaled it was found to exceed $45.00. The pastor, Rev. Armstrong, presented the offering and in fitting words expressed the gratitude of a grateful people to Rev. Sarvis for his help. As usual he was ready with just the right thing to say at such a time. The theme announced for this evening is "The American Home."

BLUE SKY LAW GETS APPROVAL OF COURT

Harrisburg, Dec. 12.—Dauphin county courts decided today that the Securities Bureau of the State Banking department was fully empowered to act in the regulation of securities. This was the first decision to be made in the recently passed "Blue Sky Law". The case of N. B. Bagley of New York, with offices in Philadelphia, Scranton, Allentown and Sunbury was dismissed on the grounds that the Secretary on banking has full authority.

The constitutionality of the law was not commented on by the court, although it is claimed that the law is unconstitutional.

FUNERAL OF MRS. F. M. CARDON

Funeral services for the late Mrs. F. M. Cardon will be held at the Cardon home on Cherry street Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment in Hillcrest cemetery.

CLEVELAND IS CHOSEN BY REPUBLICANS FOR HOLDING OF NATIONAL CONVENTION; VOTE REDUCTION HITS SOUTHERN DELEGATIONS

Washington, Dec. 12.—The Republican national committee today formally selected Cleveland, Ohio, as the city for the 1924 Republican national convention.

June 10, 1924 was set as the opening date of the convention. The vote for the three cities which sought the meeting was: Cleveland 39, San Francisco 10, and Des Moines 1. The selection was then made unanimous upon motion of William H. Crocker, Republican national committee man from California.

The Republican national committee in convention here today reversed itself in all previous actions by reducing by twenty-three the representation from the southern states. This will take effect in the next national Republican convention.

After a bitter fight the committee adopted the resolution introduced by Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania providing that representation of all states in the country shall be based on the following:

1. One representative to every congressional district maintaining a Republican organization.
2. Four state delegates at large.
3. Three additional delegates to every state which cast its electoral vote for Harding.

The adoption of Senator Pepper's resolution caused even a more bitter wrangle than the one which preceded it from the southern states. This is the law was amended and the time extended to Dec. 31, 1923. The states which will lose their share of the state-aid fund, the State Highway department said today.

While the personnel of the Boards of County Commissioners will change Jan. 1 in the majority of Pennsylvania counties, the old Board of Commissioners must state the preferences of the counties or the money will be lost.

Under the terms of the Act of 1921 it was mandatory on County Commissioners that before June 1, of the year following the legislative session, they express their state-aid preferences. It developed that a number of boards neglected or omitted this procedure, and consequently in 1922 the law was amended and the time extended to Dec. 31, 1923. The states which will lose their share of the state-aid fund, the State Highway department said today.

We're With Lord And The Spirit On Road

Jefferson county's move to procure construction of secondary roads in the southern half of the county has been jeopardized by one of those splits of public sentiment that so often in the past have proven to be big obstacles to the work of procuring road improvements.

Charles S. Lord, of the Reynoldsville Star, has been an active advocate of an improved road between Reynoldsville and Punxsutawney and W. L. Ingersoll, of the Big Run Tribune, has charged Mr. Lord with using Punxsutawney as a bait to procure more highways for Reynoldsville and stresses the point that Punxsutawney would be more benefited by a connection with the Lakes to Sea Highway at Brookville.

The Big Run man wants to let Reynoldsville remain out in the cold and the mud by improving the road between Punxsutawney and Brookville.

The Punxsutawney Spirit "horns in" on the controversy by taking up the "judges for Lord's plan and while we suppose it is none of our business we can't refrain from lining up with Lord. There may be nothing in a name, but our early day religious teaching confirms us in the belief that the Lord's way and the way of the Spirit is much to be preferred to the route pointed out by Ingersoll. Therefore we agree with Lord, the road should be built from Reynoldsville to Punxsutawney. Who wants to take a chance on another "Squire Reaps with a really good road through Big Run."

CONGRESS TO ACT ON DIPLOMA MILLS

Washington, Dec. 12.—Congressional action against medical "diploma mills" will be started in the Senate today when Senator Copeland, New York, introduced a resolution demanding inquiry into their activities.

Copeland's resolution calls for an investigation by the state education and labor committee of which he is a member.

Penna. State Students For Volstead Law

State College, Dec. 11.—Resolutions urging all students of the Pennsylvania State College "to avoid absolutely all participation in any practice or transactions in violation of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution" were passed tonight by the student council of the college. Aid's also offered college officials in properly punishing all students committing offenses against the Volstead act.

It is thought to be the first sweeping action ever taken by an American college student government body in support of prohibition enforcement. There was not a dissenting voice in the group of fifty student representative councilmen when the matter was brought to a vote.

The action probably came as a result of statements by President John M. Thomas at the opening session of college this fall when he declared that college men should enforce law and order, not only in college, but afterwards as citizens of the commonwealth, because most of them become leaders in their respective communities.

The Penn State resolutions declare that the student council is "vigorously opposed to all illegal traffic in alcoholic beverages;" that "we heartily endorse all action on the part of our national and state executives that will lead to more efficient enforcement of the law;" and that "we will support the prohibition of our college in the enforcement of the law."

ting such offenses." National prevalence of lawlessness in regard to the amendment is given as one of the prime motives for the student action.

Mrs. Harold Jamnot and daughter Emily, of Frenchville, are guests of Clearfield relatives at present.

Bats' Habits.
As bats are only rarely seen in daytime, people, as a rule, know very little about them. When attracted by a light, and a window chance to be open, one will, during the warm parts of the year, fly in and cause considerable excitement, says Nature Magazine. The best thing to do is to allow it to make its escape unharmed, as the interesting little mammal preys upon no end of harmful insects.

FIREMEN WILL ELECT OFFICERS

Clearfield Fire Company No. 1 will elect officers for the ensuing year at a meeting to be held in their room in the Borough building this evening at 8 o'clock. Following the business session a sauer kraut feed and smokes will be enjoyed.

Ground Beetles Make Friends.
One of man's friends is one of the ground beetles known as Calosoma geophilus, says Nature Magazine of Washington. It is a glittering green and gold beetle with a head and thorax of deep purple. It was imported from Europe among other natural enemies of the grass moth and brown-tail moth. Both adults and young of the Calosoma beetles are extremely voracious and feed on other insects, especially the caterpillars of moths.

MARRIED AT HUNTINGDON

Mr. Paul Gross and Miss Mary Barton, both of Clearfield, surprised their friends by slipping away to Huntingdon, where they were married Tuesday, Nov. 27. Mr. Gross is employed as assistant shipper at No. 2 office of the Hapison-Walker Company. Miss Barton is a graduate of the class of '23, Clearfield High School.

They will reside in Clearfield and have the best wishes of all their friends for a long and happy life.

EVANS—COURTOS

Henry Evans, of Morgan, and Miss Louise Courtos, of Madera, were united in marriage on Wednesday last and following the ceremony departed for Pittsburgh on a honeymoon tour, followed by the best wishes of a host of friends.

Many Eggs in Fish.
Codfish are a most important food product, and when dried and salted are shipped all over the world, says Nature Magazine. It is fortunate that they are one of the most productive fishes. A codfish weighing about twenty pounds has, roughly speaking, nearly 2,000,000 eggs.

Don't Neglect a Cold

Mother, don't let colds get under way; at the first cough or snuffle rub Musterole on the throat and chest. Musterole is a pure, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It draws out congestion, relieves soreness, does all the work of the good old-fashioned mustard plaster in a gentler way, without the blister.

Keep a jar handy for all emergencies; it may prevent pneumonia in your home. To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35¢ & 65¢ in jars & tubes; hospital size, $3.

There died over in Ohio the other day a man who carved out his own profession. No school of technology grounded him in the fundamentals of his calling. He himself built it from the foundation. He was John Davey, tree surgeon. His work through the years gained for him the appellation of "father of tree surgery." John Davey did not learn the alphabet until he was 20 years of age and he taught himself to read. Though starting late he improved his time and for years had been a lecturer and writer on the care and preservation of trees.

A tree is a plant of slow growth. Davey proceeded on the theory that it is better to preserve the tree one has than to plant another in its place and wait for it to grow. He would preserve life by excision of dead or diseased portions and treatment to prevent decay of the sound parts. His treatment was of especial value in conserving shade trees in lawns and parks. His methods were original and at first were ill-received by those rated as experts in the care of trees, but he persisted and in the end the correctness of his idea was acknowledged. No small part of his success was due to the fact that he loved trees. His heart was in the work. Due to his experimentation there are thousands of vigorous trees where otherwise there would have been declining or dead ones. And his preaching constantly on trees aroused in the public a greater appreciation of trees than had been hitherto held. His was an achievement worthy of note.—Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

U. S. PARTICIPATION

President Taft offered him the portfolio of Secretary of the Treasury.

J. P. Morgan was regarded as a doubtful choice because of his European connections and his direct personal interest in finances there. Brigadier General Charles M. Dawes was held to have the necessary qualifications, but the choice seemed more likely to center around Mr. Reynolds, who was summoned to a White House luncheon conference by the President a short time ago.

What the American government hopes will develop from the inquiries is a discussion inviting public attention to the whole problem and the possibility that once an actual start shall have been made there would be a progressive action toward an adjustment.

Scope of the Inquiry.
Committee No. 1 as now proposed would have authority sufficiently broad to embrace the vital question of the reparations problem. It would be charged with a determination of such issues as the following:

1. Advisable duration of a moratorium for Germany.
2. Date on which Germany should begin payments of monetary reparations.
3. Amounts of such annual payments.
4. Quantity of payments in kind by Germany on her reparations account.

Those questions would be technically supplemental to ways and means of stabilizing the German currency and balancing the German budget; yet they would exert a most compelling influence on them.

It might well follow, also, with the assent of the American experts, that a substantial foreign loan to Germany was necessary to stabilize her currency, and that the invitation to currency, balance her budget and provide gold payments to France and Belgium.

Committee No. 2, empowered to inquire into German "frozen assets" in Holland, Switzerland and other countries, is created as a distinct concession to French opinion. Authorities said there was no rule of international law or practice to prohibit the segregation of German capital in foreign countries or compel its forcible repatriation.

The administration regards the terms of the inquiry by Committee No. 1 as being virtually unrestricted. There was some slight technical difference between this plan and that broached by Mr. Hughes at New Haven a year ago, it was stated, but the whole disposition was not to quibble over such matters in the hope for the larger developments which might follow.

White House Optimistic.
The official White House announcement, through which ran an obvious strain of optimism predicated largely on the unanimity of action by France and her allies on the one side and Germany on the other, together with the trust and confidence imposed in the United States follows:

"The Government has been informed that the Reparations Commission is considering the establishment of two expert committees, one to consider the means of balancing the budget of Germany, and the measures to be taken to stabilize her currency; the other to take up the question of the capital which has been removed from Germany."

"The inquiry of the first committee would comprehend all the conditions to be realized and the measures to be taken to accomplish the results desired. All the representatives of the governments' members of the commission have expressed the desire to have American experts on the two committees."

"It is understood that the Government of the American experts, that a position to be represented on these many was necessary to stabilize her currency, and that the invitation to the American experts will be extended directly by the Reparations Commission.

Proposed by France.

"This Government believes that the proposed inquiry will be of great value and in view of its direct interest as a creditor, and of the importance of the economic recuperation in Europe, it would view with favor the acceptance by American experts of such an invitation."

"The immediate proposal before the Reparations Commission has been made by the French delegate and president of the commission, and has the support, it is understood, of all the Allied Governments. The British Government has informed this Government of its desire that American experts should participate in the inquiry."

Progress Editorial For Women

A WOMAN'S WEAPON

By FLORENCE DAVIES

For the last twenty years or so, the world has been busy getting woman all neatly placed up on a pedestal. For it is about twenty years since the feminist movement began in earnest. But just as woman gets comfortably seated upon the niche which is marked Woman's Era, and all the world has learned to think of her as a kind of modern goddess, along come two modern novelists who rudely claim to discover that the pretty idol has feet of clay.

It has been a good many years now since we were told that women were naggers. That used to be the subject of countless columns of advice in the old journals devoted to the welfare of lady readers. But with the advent of women's political equality, authors seemed to take it for granted that woman had come into man's estate and hence had put away womanish things, and that the old fashioned sin of complaining, scolding and nagging had gone out of fashion.

But not so, according to these two novelists, both of whom are men. Gouverneur Morris tells a tale of a family dominated and even persecuted by a nagging, domineering woman.

man. One by one the boys leave home, and the husband, not having learned at first that he would have to nag or be nagged, adopts the usual male slogan of peace at any price.

In another picture, Edgar Lee Masters, the author of The Spoon River Anthology, paints the type of woman who soon after marriage turns nagger and acids while her husband deteriorates and finally becomes a nonentity.

Of course, it goes without saying that neither author is making a charge against all womankind. They merely point out that the type does exist.

Even equality wasn't enough to stop the woman who, not being able to fight with her fists, fights with her tongue.

"Women ruin men financially, morally, mentally and spiritually by a constant disparagement of their merits and by a subtle nagging," says one of these authors in commenting upon his book.

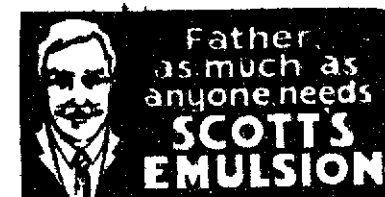

"Women have a sense of men's cruelty. They know the value of a sarcastic answer. Any man with confidence and mental ability can be utterly destroyed by constant sarcasm or constant nagging."

Why do they do it? That is the question that no novelist has answered satisfactorily. Mr. Masters says that it is because of resentment.

A woman falls in love with a man and marries him and then he fails her in many small ways. He is not quite so attentive, quite so gallant as she expected, and in return she takes this method for getting attention of a kind.

But how short-sighted! No one in the world's history was ever nagged into love. A woman may get a kind of mechanical show of attention, in that way, but there will be a worm of bitterness at its core.

Sarcasm pays such poor returns. It's hard to see why a woman with any brains at all ever resorts to it. The answer is, of course, that few of them do. Nagging and sarcasm are for the most part weapons of the brainless.

THE BASIS OF SAFETY

Beautiful buildings, strong vaults, marble and bronze equipment do not make a bank safe.

In the last analysis, the strength of a bank lies in the men behind the bank.

The officers of the County National are careful business men who feel keenly their responsibility as guardians of the people's money.

Its directors are successful men in their own lines of business. They give to the conduct of the bank's affairs the same care and consideration that have made them leaders in their business.

This bank offers you the highest degree of safety. Your account is invited.

Abject Misery Vulgar Wealth

Remarkable Contrast Shown in Hungry Berlin--Economy for the Average Man Means Deprivation.

By CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Berlin, Dec. 12.—The German of today is like the Roman of the Caesars days.
He demands bread—and shows. Bread he does not always get, but shows of one kind or another he still has.
Misery, wretchedness, abject poverty and hunger on the one side; pomp and display and vulgar wealth on the other.
Never in Germany's history has the Grunewald racetrack been so patronized as this autumn. And never in Germany's history have there been such queues of beshawled, shivering women waiting at the bakeries for their black loaves, uncertain whether they can have the staff of life at all or whether their meager pocketbooks will suffice to pay the dealer's toll.
Splendor Near Hunger.
The "Rent-Turner"—riding tournament—in the Sport-Palace attracted thousands. The glittering of the "old days"—barons, baronesses, princes, princesses, princelings, the old and new rich—this was the spectacle while within a stone's throw hunger marched.
Gen. von Seeckt, military dictator, would end some of the display, some of the wastefulness that goes with night life, with Germany's myriads of mushroom bars, naked dance shows, gambling clubs. But those who still have money—and they are ever few—still evade the dictator's rulings and some night life still flourishes in dark, unattractive haunts.
It is history over again. Distress on one side; ruthless lavishness on the other.
The shivering, beshawled woman in the bread line—bread "snakes," the Berliners name these pitiful queues—is happy if she gets three to four loaves a week for her family. The "Schieber" is happy if he can pay the fancy billions that the tram-line charges.

He carries a couple of black bread sandwiches, smeared with lard or tallow, instead of going, as in the old days, to a little beer restaurant to a special table where each day a dozen cronies gathered.
He burns an oil lamp before his door at night as he can't pay for the electric lights for the stairways.
And he retires as soon as the day's work is ended as his house is unheated.
This is no idle picture; it is life in the capital of the Reich.
The picture is a present of the German people to the American people, showing the contrast between the life of the German and the life of the American.

$5 Powders

The kind I use—at very modest prices
By Edna Wallace Hopper

The powders we use in Movieland cost us $5 per box. Beauty is our stock in trade, and we care not what it costs.
I have offered to other women my help to youth and beauty. The very creations which France envied me, which made me a famous beauty, and which have kept my youthful beauty to a grand old age.
But I did not think of powders. I never dreamed that the powder I use could be sold at modest prices.
Women by the thousands asked about my powders. So I showed the makers that millions of boxes could be sold to users of my beauty help. And they offered me these identical powders, made under my name, to be vapor, as harmless as dew. And all sold at 50c and $1.
Up to now, few women have ever used a powder so exquisite. Few could afford the price. Now I bring them to you—the finest powder experts can create. They are as fine as vapor, as harmless as dew. And all are fragrant with my favorite perfume. Now the powders used by stage and movie beauties can be used by all who wish.
There are two kinds, light and heavy. I use a cold cream powder, with a base like my Youth Cream. It clings and stays. But some like a powder light and fluffy without the cold cream base. So I had both kinds prepared.
Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream Powder—the heavy, clinging powder—sells for $1. Edna Wallace Hopper's Face Powder—the light and fluffy powder—sells for 50c. Both come in three shades—white, fle-ah and brunette.
All druggists and toilet counters now supply my help to youth and beauty, and my powders too. These are the French creations which made me what I am. My Youth Cream—based on fruits. My Facial Youth—my famous liquid cleanser. My Hair Youth, which brought my luxuriant hair. My White Youth Clay—the last word in facial clay. By Beauty Book comes with each.
I offer them in the hope to bring millions the benefit I got. Powders are incidental. But now you get them also, and I am very glad for your sake. Edna Wallace Hopper. Business address, Waukesha, Wis.
NOTE: Miss Hopper is now visiting the Pan American Van Lines circuit of the Western States.

MILK

THE COMPLETE FOOD FOR EVERYONE

So many folks have come to think that milk is a food for babies and that it is not good for grown-ups. That this is not the case has been proven time and time again. Where there are institutions for the building up of health and strength, you will find that milk is the main item of diet. Where folks pay particular attention to their diet, you will find that milk has a very conspicuous place on the dietary list.

If you think that milk is not a complete food, talk to your family physician about it. He will tell you that milk is a combination of things which will build you up, mentally and physically. There are fats, minerals, albumen, casein, sugar and other things which any body needs for its proper nutrition.

Start drinking at least a quart of milk a day. You will find that it will bring you back or keep you going.

And the Milk We Deliver Has Gone Through the Pasteurization Process, Which Assures You of Absolute Purity and Yet Does Not Lack Any One of These Essential Food Materials.

And This Buffalo Physician Has Done For Humanity

The picture which appears here is of Dr. J. C. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., who is a young man of 35 years of age. He is a native of Pennsylvania and was known far and wide for his success in alleviating disease. He early moved to Buffalo and put up his sign, "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," his well-known formula for the blood. This strength-giving medicine is made from a formula which has been found most effective in the treatment of the blood. It contains no alcohol and is an extract of nature with the ingredients plainly shown on the wrapper. Good red blood, vigor and vitality are sure to come if you take this Alternative. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cleans away pimples and eruptions and tends to keep complexion fresh and clear. This discovery corrects the disorder of the blood, is a sick stomach, aids digestion, acts as a tonic and builds the body. Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Food is in Buffalo, N. Y., and receives professional medical advice without charge. All druggists sell Discovery. Send for free trial package.

BASKETBALL TEAM BEING ROUNDED UP

J. Howard Thompson came in from Greenwood camp yesterday, where he was having the time of his life, and journeyed to Huntingdon, where some business matters demanded his immediate attention. He was the only man in the Greenwood bunch that succeeded in killing a buck this season, so far as has been reported.

Thus far in the month of December Curwensville merchants tell us that business has not been up to snuff, and that people are not buying as plentifully as they did this time last year. Most of them blame the slump of trade on the weather conditions.

With but two more practice sessions before the initial cage game with Philadelphia High's floormen here Friday, the local coaches are sending their proteges through a strenuous practice. Passing is a big figure, large portions of the practice being set off for that part of play. The squad as a whole is finding its shooting eye and is rapidly responding to the staff runs.

After a big cut, Coach Reed has his squad at about fifteen varsity prospects. "Nick" Brown at center is the same old reliable, and his teammates predict a banner year for the range center. Ammerman and Boyce are fighting for a hold on the pivot position. When Brown plays forward Ammerman goes to center, but Boyce is showing a fast game. The squad are after the guard berths but Barnes and Mitchell are leading the chase while Getz and Rafferty are giving the former pair a run.

At forward Wilson and Barrie are edging away while Maurer and Ammerman are also in the running. Regular scrimmages are being held each evening with the regular five being Brown, K. Harris, Wilson, C. Barnes, and Mitchell, with Rafferty, Ammerman, Getz, Boyce and Maurer playing the second team roles.

Clearfield High scheduled the following games with teams in the Western Conference at the meeting held at Lock Haven last Friday:

October 18, Altoona away.
October 26, Johnstown, here.
November 1, Lock Haven here.
November 15, at Windber.
Following the meeting of the Western Conference at Lock Haven Friday, as reported in yesterday's Progress, a joint session of the Eastern and Western Conference representatives was held Saturday morning and the following officers were selected for the coming year: President, O. W. Saylor, Johnstown; vice president, Percy L. Grubb, Harrisburg; secretary and treasurer, J. M. Diener, Clearfield.

GILBERT W. FLEGAL

Gilbert W. Flegal, one of Clearfield's best known and most highly respected citizens, passed away at his home in Clearfield Tuesday morning, December 11th, 1923, at 4:25 o'clock.

Mr. Flegal was born in Clearfield, Pa., on June 1st, 1842, making his age 81 years, 6 months and 2 days. In his youth he followed milling, but in later years engaged in the mercantile business.

Mr. Flegal was a Civil war veteran having been a member of Co. I 143 reg. of Pennsylvania Volunteers, and rendered his country faithful service in defense of stars and stripes. He was a devoted member of the Methodist church and was also connected with the Knights of the Golden Eagle and P. O. S. of A. lodges.

He was a gentleman of sterling qualities and his passing will be mourned by a large circle of friends.

His wife, who was formerly Miss Mary Elizabeth Hull, of Clearfield, survives, four sons and two daughters, Grant and Harvey at Clearfield, Pa., and Mrs. R. L. Flegal of Philadelphia. He is survived by five brothers, John, David and Peter, all of Clearfield, and William, of S. C.

The funeral will take place from the Methodist church on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in the Bradford cemetery.

The funeral service will leave the church home on Dairy street at 1:30 o'clock.

BE RID OF THAT ACHE

It is a fact that many of us have experienced at one time or another a severe ache in the back, neck, or limbs. This is usually due to some strain or injury, and if not properly treated, it may become a chronic condition.

There is a simple and effective remedy for this trouble. It is a small, white, oval-shaped pill, which is known as "St. John's Wort." It is a natural product, and it is safe for everyone to use. It will relieve the ache in a very short time, and it will also prevent it from coming back.

Can't Stop Joint-Ease

"You can't stop people from buying Joint-Ease for sore throat and cold in chest," writes one of our druggist friends. "They say it's the best ever."

We know that, of course, but please remember that Joint-Ease is for stiff, swollen, painful joints, whether rheumatic or not, and its tremendous sale for that purpose proves that it is the one joint remedy that gets the most satisfying results.

A tube costs 60 cents at druggists everywhere. Just rub it on and in a few seconds it disappears completely under the skin, and relief follows instantly.

| Big-Six seven-passenger Sedan      | $2685 |

All prices f. o. b. factory

Only the prices have been reduced. The quality remains the same. It is a Studebaker policy to share manufacturing savings with its customers. With the addition of another enormous unit to its $8,000,000 Closed Car plants at South Bend, Studebaker costs are reduced and the purchaser benefits accordingly.

In justice to yourself, you should come in and see what Studebaker has to offer before you decide on any car.
